SECTION 1

How onboarding fits together

Everything in RentRewards hangs off one chain. Each link has to exist before the next can be added, and each person is brought in by someone who already has access.

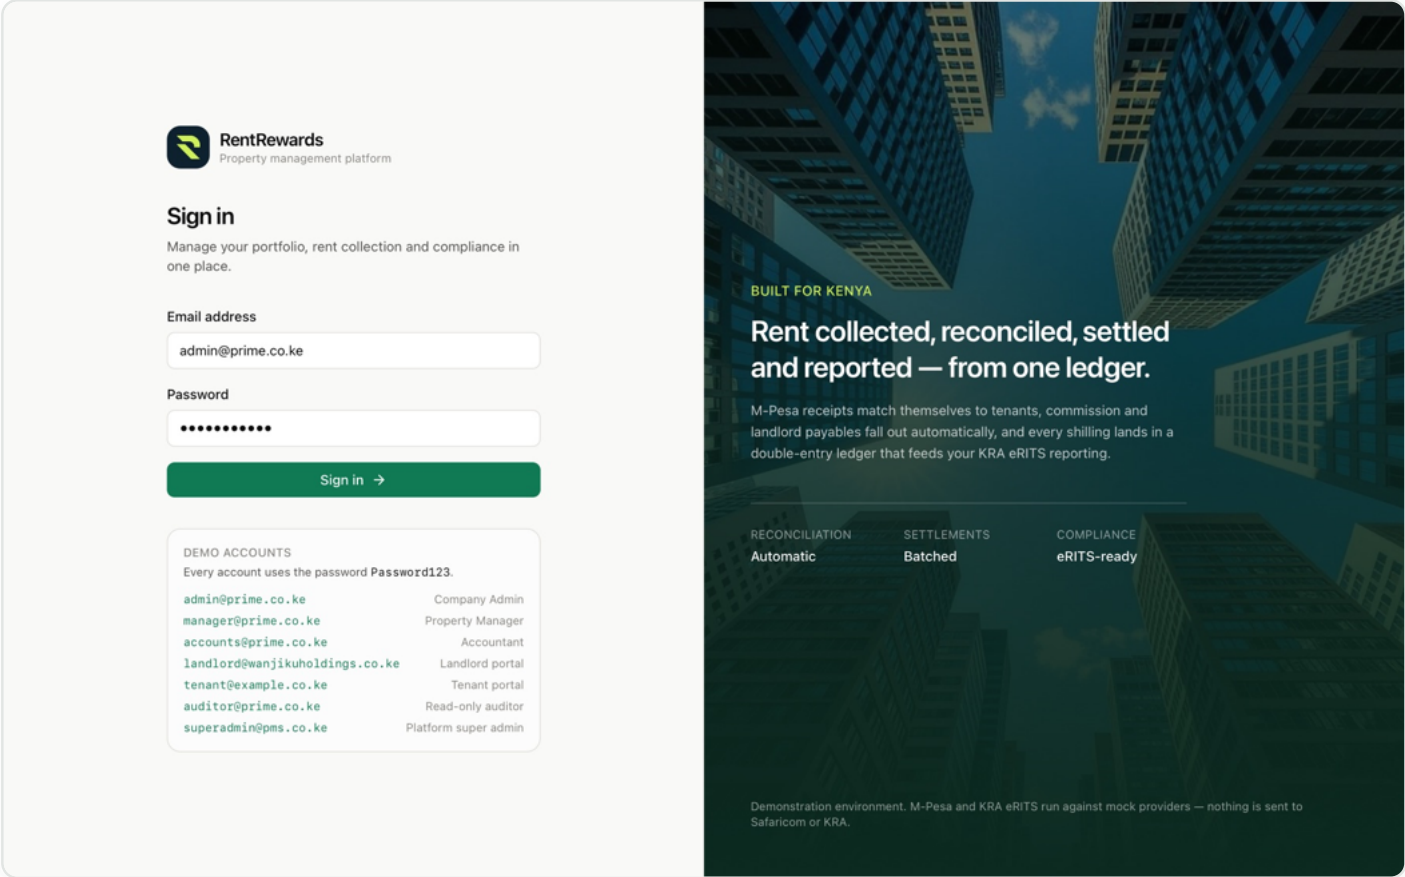

Who onboards whom

| WHO IS ONBOARDED        | WHO DOES IT                                             | WHERE IN THE APP                                     | HOW THEY GET ACCESS                        |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|
| Property manager        | Company admin                                           | Administration → Users                               | Invitation link; sets own password         |
| Landlord (record)       | Company admin or property manager                       | Portfolio → Landlords → Add landlord                 | —                                          |
| Landlord (portal login) | Company admin or property manager                       | Landlord page → Landlord portal                      | Invitation link; sets own password         |
| Property                | Company admin or property manager                       | Portfolio → Properties → Add property                | —                                          |
| Manager ↔ property      | Company admin                                           | Property page → Overview → Property manager          | Assigned manager sees the property at once |
| Tenant (record + lease) | Company admin or property manager                       | Tenancy → Tenants → Add tenant                       | —                                          |
| Tenant (portal login)   | Company admin or property manager, or the tenant | Tenant page → Portal tab, or the public sign-up page | Invitation link, or self-registration      |

Recommended order: property managers → landlords → properties → units → tenants & leases → move-in → portal invitations. Each step needs the one before it: a property needs its landlord, a lease needs a vacant unit, and a tenant needs a lease before the portal has anything to show them.

Before you start

Everyone signs in on the same page. What they see afterwards depends on their role.

The sign-in page. Staff, landlords and tenants all use it.

Roles that take part in onboarding

| ROLE             | CAN ONBOARD                                                                                   | SEES                                                    |
|------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| Company admin    | Everything: managers, landlords, properties, units, tenants, invitations, manager assignments | The whole organization                                  |
| Property manager | Landlords, properties, units, tenants, leases, move-ins, landlord and tenant invitations      | Only properties assigned to them (and anything on them) |
| Landlord         | Nobody (view only)                                                                            | Only properties they own                                |
| Tenant           | Themselves, by self-registration (if allowed)                                                 | Their own tenancy in the tenant portal                  |

Fields marked Required in the tables below must be filled before a form will save. Everything else can be added now or left blank.

Property manager

Done by: Company admin. A property manager runs day-to-day operations for the properties assigned to them.

Details the admin supplies

| FIELD     |          | NOTES                                                                        |
|-----------|----------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Full name | Required | Shown on their account and on properties they manage.                        |
| Email     | Required | Becomes their sign-in. Must not already belong to another RentRewards login. |

Details the manager supplies

1 Open Tenancy → Tenants and click “Add tenant” ADMIN / MANAGER

Enter the tenant's details. Click Save and create lease.

The Add tenant form is a web interface for adding a new tenant. It contains several input fields arranged in a grid. The first row has 'Full name', 'Phone', and 'Email'. The second row has 'National ID' and 'KRA PIN'. The third row has 'Emergency contact' and 'Emergency phone'. Below these fields is a green button labeled 'Save and create lease'. A small note below the phone field states: 'M-Pesa payments from this number match automatically.'

2 Sign the lease on a vacant unit ADMIN / MANAGER

The new lease form opens with the tenant already chosen. Pick the vacant unit and check the start date, length and due day. Leave rent, deposit and service charge blank to use the unit's figures. Click Sign lease. The unit becomes Reserved and a move-in is scheduled.

The new lease form is a web interface for signing a lease. It features dropdown menus for 'Tenant' and 'Vacant unit'. Below these are input fields for 'Start date', 'Length (months)', and 'Rent due on day'. Further down are dropdown menus for 'Monthly rent (KES)', 'Deposit (KES)', and 'Service charge (KES)'. A green button labeled 'Sign lease' is at the bottom. A note at the bottom states: 'Leave rent, deposit or service charge blank to use the unit's own figures.'

7 The tenant is in their portal TENANT

They see what they owe, pay by M-Pesa, download receipts and statements, report repairs, and follow their reward points and Rental Passport.

The tenant portal home.

Alt Alternative: the tenant registers themselves TENANT

Where the company allows it, a tenant can sign up without an invitation at `/tenant/register`, using their tenant code and the phone number already on their record. The tenant record and lease must already exist.

The screenshot shows the RentRewards tenant portal registration form. The header includes the RentRewards logo and the text 'Tenant portal'. The form is titled 'Register' and includes instructions: 'Use the tenant reference on your lease or receipt, and the phone number your property manager has on file for you.' The form fields are: 'WHO MANAGES YOUR PROPERTY?' (a dropdown menu with 'Select...' as the placeholder), 'TENANT REFERENCE' (a text field with 'TEN-0042' as the value), 'PHONE NUMBER ON FILE' (a text field with '0712 345 678' as the value), 'YOUR EMAIL ADDRESS' (a text field), 'PASSWORD' (a text field), and 'CONFIRM' (a text field). Below the password fields is a note: 'At least 8 characters, including a letter and a number.' A green 'Create my account' button is at the bottom. At the very bottom, there is a link: 'If your details do not match, ask your property manager to send you an invitation instead — that link sets up your account without needing any of this. Already have an account?'.

Tenant self-registration.

Invitations: the rules

Property managers, landlords and tenants all join through the same kind of invitation.

- One-time link. Each invitation is a unique link. It works once; after the person sets their password it stops working.
- 72 hours. A link expires 72 hours after it is sent. Send a new one if it runs out.
- Newest wins. Sending a new invitation to the same person cancels any earlier link.
- Revoke. A pending invitation can be revoked from where it was sent, without sending another.
- One login per email. An email address can belong to only one RentRewards login. Each landlord and each tenant can have one portal login.
- Email delivery. Invitations are emailed. Until email delivery is connected, the person sending it also sees the link once so they can share it themselves.
- Passwords. At least 8 characters, including a letter and a number. RentRewards stores only a secure hash of the link and of the password.

| Invitation link "no longer valid"                     | It expired, was used, or was replaced. Send a new invitation.              |
| A property manager cannot see a property              | Assign them on the property's Overview tab.                                |
| Can't invite a landlord or tenant                     | Add an email address to their record first.                                |
| No unit offered when signing a lease                  | Only vacant units are offered. Add units, or end the current lease.        |
| A unit upload added nothing                           | Fix the rows listed in the message and upload the whole file again.        |

Unit spreadsheet format

Used by Upload a spreadsheet on a property’s Units tab. Download the template there for a ready-made file.

| COLUMN HEADING |          | WHAT GOES IN IT                                  | EXAMPLE     |
|----------------|----------|--------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| unit_number    | Required | Door number. Unique within the property.         | A1          |
| monthly_rent   | Required | Rent in KES. Commas and “KES” are ignored.       | 25000       |
| type           | Optional | Unit type code or name. Blank means One Bedroom. | ONE_BEDROOM |
| floor          | Optional | Whole number. Ground floor is 0.                 | 0           |
| bedrooms       | Optional | Whole number. Blank means 1.                     | 1           |

| service_charge | Optional | Monthly service charge in KES. Blank means 0.    | 2000        |

Unit types

BEDSITTER, STUDIO, ONE_BEDROOM, TWO_BEDROOM, THREE_BEDROOM, FOUR_BEDROOM, MAISONETTE, SHOP, OFFICE_SPACE, HOSTEL_ROOM, OTHER (the names, e.g. “One Bedroom”, also work).

Rules

- The first row must be the column headings. Order does not matter; extra columns are ignored. Common headings such as “Unit No” or “Rent” are recognised.
- Each unit number may appear once and must not already exist on the property.
- Up to 500 units per file. Every unit is added as Vacant.
- Excel files are not read directly: save as CSV first.
- If any row has a problem, nothing is added and the message lists every row to fix.
